You operate in a very competitive environment. How your school looks and operates are some of the most important factors in how you are perceived. Food Service and grounds are determining factors when a student or family chooses you. Physical plant and pests need to remain unseen and under control. Cleanliness is paramount.

Walsh's Quality Platform is the best way to ensure that your buildings, grounds, food service, physical plant, and more, are all at their best every day.

Whether you have a single building, a large campus, or are spread across cities and states, Walsh can help you understand and improve what is going on with your critical services.

Using any phone or tablet, your team has a series of custom checklists, forms, surveys and more. These are organized by location, service, specialty, and user. Throughout the day, they examine the quality of cleanliness, record meter readings, ask questions about the cafeteria or restaurants, and ensure all grounds' tasks are getting done. All the information streams in real time to your dashboard, where you see who did what, how long it took, what work is pending, where there are problems and when they will be fixed.

Walsh 's solutions incorporate cleaning standards, engineering forms, questionnaires and more, in a single easy to use platform. Ensuring compliance by inspecting and reporting is essential to maintaining a healthy and safe environment for students, families, and staff.

Over time, you will gain valuable insights into performance of individuals, identify rooms, floors, and other areas that require attention, and optimize resource allocation. This data-driven approach leads to more effective cleaning and maintenance strategies and better resource management.

With Walsh, it is easy to track and monitor quality and activities. Our solutions record when tasks are completed and who completed them. They can add notes and photos directly to the various tasks. This promotes accountability among staff and provides you with clear records of activities and the quality of performance.
