Walsh Linen Quality Manager

Automate your Linen Quality Program

Track and manage the quality of your linen.

Stop sending stained and torn linen to your end-users.

Have you ever had a stained sheet rejected just as it was going onto the bed, or worse, no one noticed until it was too late? How often has a towel been thrown into the trash by nursing but your inventory was not updated? What about a set of scrubs that were rejected, only to be processed and returned without solving the problem?

Whether you clean your laundry in-house, or contract to an outside vendor, when unusable linen gets to your end user your entire service suffers.

Walsh's Linen Quality Manager is a system that allows you to prevent unusable linen from getting to your end user while tracking causes, inventory, costs, and efficiency.

How it works

- We install special hampers in nursing units, locker rooms, or any other place that linen is used.
- Inservice all staff to segregate unusable items into these bins.
- Those bags make their way to your linen handling area where it is sorted.
- All info is recorded by your staff on an iPad.
- These items are sent for disposal/recycling, wash/stain wash, or repairs.
- Instantly you will see
  - Information is then displayed by issue, source, disposition, cost, item, and more
  - trends in staining or other issues allowing you to adjust processes appropriately
  - live changes in inventory levels, allowing you to re-stock before a crisis
  - Accurate costs allowing better budgeting
